The Route 66

International Festival

The Route 66 International Festival was held in Joplin, MO August 2-4, 2013.

The activities began at Joplin City Hall Friday morning August 2 with a summit meeting of Route 66 enthusiasts/associations/agencies from across the nation.

On the afternoon of August 2, the festival was officially opened with the unveiling of new tile mosaic murals. The new murals are on the side of the Pearl Bros hardware store at 7th and Main.

Events moved to Galena, KS Friday evening for a new mural unveiling, car show and live music.

Saturday August 3rd brought rain early in the morning, but by festival time the sky was partly cloudy and perfect festival weather. Along Main Street was a car show stretching several blocks. There were also food vendors, merchandise vendors and live music.

Inside the Christman Center, authors, artists, associations and collectors had booths (and air conditioning).

The festival for 2014 will be held in Kingman, AZ. The scheduled dates are August 13-17.

President's

Memo

I would like to start by thanking the Association members that helped at the booth at the Joplin festival. Your help allowed me time to roam around the festival and visit with other associations and by chance reach out to some new audiences. They are how we can further promote Route 66 to folks who may not have had an interest before.

Speaking of growing the Association... Let's all work towards that goal. I would like to ask everyone to get one new member in the next few months. Memberships are now available at our new online store!

Oh, did I just mention a new online store? Yes I did! <http://oklahomaroute66.com/store/> You can get memberships there (new and renewal) and also copies of our annual trip guide. There are plans for new items and great sales on old. Check us out!

There will also be a new collaboration with an association not related to Route 66. While at the Joplin festival, I visited with some representatives from the Jefferson Highway Association. The Jefferson Highway went from Winnipeg Canada to New Orleans, Louisiana. Why the Oklahoma Route 66 Association interest? The Jefferson Highway followed Route 66 from Miami to the West side of Vinita where it turned and headed South into Pryor/Muskogee/Durant and on into Texas.

Also, I want to mention a great museum that I had the pleasure of speaking at in August. It's the Greater Southwest Historical Museum. They had a Summer speaker series during June, July and August. All of the speakers spoke about Route 66! In June, Blaine Davis spoke about all things Blue Whale and Pat Smith from the museum in Clinton spoke in July. Just another outreach opportunity...

Time to head into Fall... Check the events listed elsewhere in the newsletter. And go and take a look!

2013 Route 66 Summit Held at Joplin City Hall

On the morning of Friday August 2nd, the 2013 Route 66 Summit was held at Joplin City Hall. Route 66 enthusiasts, associations and associated agencies were invited by the Route 66 Alliance to attend.

The event began with a presentation (9:00am-10:15am) about economic impact and development by Kaisa Barthulli, Michael Wallis and Rick Freeland. Kaisa spoke about the Rutgers University study done on Route 66. Michael and Rick spoke about their ideas of how to help Route 66. Some of their thoughts:

- Be pet friendly
- Promote to older travelers
- Appeal to families
- Kid friendly
- Each stop along the Route is a mini United Nations
- Authentic stories
- Unique places/foods/events
- Paranormal
- Photo Opportunities
- Architecture
- Market
- Social media
- Baby boomers
- Millennial
- Ethnic audiences

The 10:30am-11:30am session was a panel discussion titled "Living the Mother Road at City Level". Panel participants were: Mayor of Joplin, MO, Melodee Colbert-Kean; Mayor of Galena, KS, Dale Oglesby and Executive Director of Tulsa Historical Society, Michelle Place.

- Educate the public
- Educate city officials
- Partner with non-profit organizations
- Tax Relief for residents - If a traveler is paying tax, that is tax that the resident is not paying

From 11:30am until noon, there were mini presentations from:

- Dan Rice - Heritage Tours
- Babs Tims - Education Update
- Johnnie Mier and Robert Gehl - Neon Foundation update
- Scott Nelson - Kansas Byways update
- Jim Hinkley - Announcement of Kingman, AZ being host to the 2014 festival

Lunch was catered for the attendees and during the meal, the individual state Associations were asked to give state specific updates.

The Summit was adjourned and the state representatives were asked to participate in the mural unveiling that was the opening ceremony for the festival.

Will Rogers Museum Fly-In Attracts Record Crowds

The Will Rogers Museum Fly-In was August 18, 2013 and has been going strong for more than two decades. The event is a time of remembering that on Aug. 15, 1935 Will Rogers and Wiley Post perished in an Alaska plane crash. Will Rogers never piloted a plane, but it was his favorite mode of travel.

This year, 112 pilots signed the log book and landed on the 2,000-foot grass strip adjacent to Will's birthplace home and on the ranch his father settled in the 1800s. Pilots flew in from as close as Sageeyah Field and Claremore Regional Airport and as far away as Texas,, Kansas, Missouri and Arkansas. There were biplanes, Ultralight Paragliders, and single engine crafts.

Will Rogers look-alike Lester Lurk, center, of Bloomsdale made an appearance at the annual Will Rogers and Wiley Post Fly-In last month in Oklahoma. Lurk posed for a photo with Mason Etcheverry, left, Rogers' 18-year-old great-great-grandson, and Joe Bacon, a pilot from Pryor, Oklahoma, who plays the role of Wiley Post.

Mason Etcheverry, the 18-year-old great-great-grandson of Will Rogers made a historical landing. His landing marked the first time a member of the Rogers' family has flown into the Fly-In. To make that extra special, Mason's passenger was his grandfather, Kem Rogers, father of Mason's mother, Jennifer. Mason leaves his Bakersfield, Calif., home this week to begin his first year at Embry Riddle University in Prescott, Ariz.

Bloomsdale resident Lester Lurk rekindled his role as Rogers' look-alike during the event. Lurk has done that on a few occasions for events in Oklahoma and Missouri, serving as an unofficial ambassador for the Will Rogers Memorial Museums.

An estimated crowd of 4,000 people of all ages came to watch the planes land and walk around the aircraft and visit pilots.

Additional entertainment on the grounds included Cherokee Storyteller Robert Lewis.

Favorite events were an antique and classic car show, tours of the 1875 ranch house where Will was born Nov. 4, 1879, and tours of the era-correct Amish-built barn.

Spectators had an opportunity to vote for Peoples Choice car and plane. It was a beautiful day and a good time has had by all.

Will Rogers Museum

Will Rogers museum is located in Claremore, OK. In the foreground is the tomb of Will Rogers chiseled with his famous quotation: "I never met a man I didn't like." Built of native limestone, the regal museum hosts a dozen theaters or television kiosks; a famous saddle collection; fine art and artifacts depicting the life of one of America's most unusual humorist-philosophers, Will Rogers.

Twelve galleries of priceless artifacts and art tell the enduring story of the life and legacy of Will Rogers. The Children's Museum in the lower level features unique, interactive exhibits and educational activities.

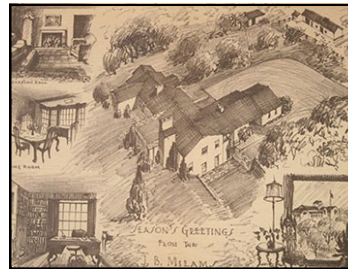

Steven K. Gragert, the Director of the Will Rogers Museum, took me on a tour of the 2 new exhibits at the museum.

"The Final Journey," is an expanded exhibit telling the story of the fateful trip to Alaska Territory by Will and pilot Wiley Post. The Oklahoma Museum Association has chosen this exhibit "Best Exhibit" in its category.

The J.B. Milam Exhibit will be on display through June 2014. It was most recently at Cherokee Heritage Center In Tahlequah and loaned to the Will Rogers Memorial Museum.

It is special for the exhibit to be in Claremore because of Chief Milam's friendship with Will Rogers.

According to Mr. Gragert there are 7 fulltime staff along with the Foundation Staff and approximately 50 volunteers that work at the museum or at the homestead ranch.

The 2,400-square-foot library and offices in the new wing of the Will Rogers Memorial provide research space for scholars and writers. Included in the library are more than 2,000 volumes by, about, or referencing Will Rogers, in addition to texts on Indians, genealogy, vaudeville, early motion pictures and the history of the 1879-1935 era.

Blue Dome Entertainment District
Tulsa, OK 74120

Come and enjoy the Art of BBQ, an annual Tulsa celebration held in the Blue Dome Entertainment District. This fun two-day event features 50 barbecue teams vying for top honors. Enter your best recipe or be a taste-tester at the Mother Road Chili Cook-Off in downtown Stroud. Participants will cook the chili off-site, then bring it to the event to be evaluated by a panel of judges and tasted by the public. Judging will be divided into three divisions: chili with beans, chili without beans and non-traditional chili, which is any chili that is not the traditional red variety.

Registration and chili camp setup will be from 10am-12pm, with public tasting and judging from 12-3pm. Trophies and cash prizes will be given for three categories. During the Mother Road Chili Cook-Off, visitors can also enjoy live music throughout the day and admire the vehicles in the motorcycle or car show.

Dec 07-8 2013

5100 SE 33rd St Edmond, OK 73013

The Boys Ranch Town Drive-Thru Christmas Pageant has been an annual gift from Boys Ranch Town to the community and visitors from all over the state of Oklahoma since 1971. This living nativity presents the Boys Ranch Town residents, staff children and live animals from the ranch as they work together to depict the life of Jesus Christ including his birth, death and resurrection. Head to Edmond this December for an unforgettable evening of the miracle of Christmas.

Dec 06, 2013 to Dec 08, 2013

Shepherd's Cross 16792 E 450 Rd
Claremore, OK 74017

Come to this Living Nativity event at Shepherd's Cross, a working farm and Christian mission, to walk through a living, interactive nativity depicting the birth of Jesus Christ. Live animals in the nativity scene include sheep, mules, donkeys, chickens, guineas and horses. Shepherd's Shop will also be open during the event and will feature farm-fresh pecans, Amish pecan candies, baked goods and hot beverages, as well as festive Christmas and sheep-related gifts. A wide variety of unique Christmas items and handmade items will be available this Christmas season.

Historic Downtown
Claremore, OK 74017

Dickens on the Boulevard is a Victorian-themed holiday festival in historic downtown Claremore. Visitors to Dickens on the Boulevard will enjoy live stage entertainment, food, pictures with Santa and more. A Victorian street dance will be held both nights of the event and a Territorial Marshals re-enactment will entertain crowds with plenty of Western-themed action. Living window displays will pepper the downtown area, while an artisan village will feature living history demonstrations. Re-enactors portraying blacksmiths, glass blowers, weavers, wood carvers, basket weavers, sculptors and more answer questions from the crowd and sell their wares.

Yukon City Park, Freedom Trail Park & Chisholm
Trail Park

Yukon's Christmas in the Park offers a beautiful lighted drive through three interconnecting parks. Yukon's Chisholm Trail, Freedom Trail and city parks make up over 100 acres of Christmas cheer that include over 125 displays and four million lights. Don't miss the horse-drawn carriage ride through the lights on nights when the festive carriages are available.

Yukon's Christmas in the Park began with a short holiday drive through a handful of colorful exhibits and has grown to acres upon acres of illuminated magic and millions of twinkling lights.
