INTERNATIONAL ROUTE 66 FESTIVAL HELD

By Jerry McClanahan

Our neighboring state of TEXAS welcomed the world to Shamrock's international ROUTE 66 FESTIVAL held JULY 12- 15, 2018 in that important Route 66 community.

This small town in the lonely Texas Panhandle stepped up and hosted a first rate celebration of Route 66, with a well-attended car show and Route 66 cruise, vendor booths, helicopter tours and air show, tours of U drop Inn and other family activities.

Festivities began Thursday afternoon/evening in nearby McLean, home of the Devils Rope/Route 66 Museum which hosted a Craft/Vendor Show featuring local homemade Art and Wood crafts. A new exhibit was revealed in the Route 66 Room of the museum with the unveiling of two of the late Willem Bor's fantastic models of Route 66 buildings, including Shamrock's former Whiting Bros station, followed by a crowded roadie dinner and live music at the Red River Steakhouse.

Shamrock's Pioneer West museum in downtown held events all weekend, including the Back in the Day display, cowboy chuck-wagon breakfast, noon cookout, and old west military reenactors.

Friday and Saturday nights in Shamrock featured a Rodeo and Ranch concerts, but the big event Saturday night was the banquet and silent auction with spirited performances by the famed Route 66 band The Road Crew.

Your Association naturally was represented with a booth at the weekends' Authors/Artists and Vendors event in the Shamrock Community Center. Even though 2 miles south of 66, the venue still enjoyed plenty of traffic. Booth fees were FREE to any member of a State Route 66 Association.

In Shamrock's picturesque downtown, under the shadow of Texas Tallest Water Tower, many gathered for the "66 Summit Gathering, "Saving 66 One Icon at a Time" on Friday July 13th at the TEXAS Theater. Among the presenters were Roamin Rich, who spoke on the John's Modern Cabins project, as well as the effort to save Missouri's Gasconade River Bridge and Jim Ross who elaborated on progress of the Painted Desert Trading Post preservation project.

An art show was held in connection with the festival, and the winners were:

1st Place: Efren Lopez

2nd Place: Shellee Graham

3rd Place: Blue Miller

People's Choice: Efren Lopez

Painting:

1st Place: Masel Zimmer

2nd Place: Tom Jones

3rd Place: Danielle Kliendl

Peoples Choice: Molley Flowers

After three days of fun, the weekend wound down on Sunday with the private egroup breakfast and an attempt that afternoon to break the World Record for the Largest Human Shamrock . Perhaps luck wasn't with this endeavor, but the rest of the event proved to be good luck for Route 66.

President's Pen...

In my last letter, I mentioned the Texas Welcomes the World Route 66 Festival, held in Shamrock TX. I hope you enjoyed the report about the event in this newsletter beginning on page 1. And I hope you'll read on to find out about the new roadside giant coming to Route 66. It will be in Tulsa at Buck Atom's Cosmic Curios. Rhys Martin has other Tulsa updates in this issue. You'll also find a list of the NPS Route 66 Corridor Preservation Program grant recipients. Happy to see a couple of sites in Oklahoma! Also, make note of the quarterly meeting dates for 2019.

On the topic of the Route 66 National Historic Trail designation...Companion legislation to the House of Representatives HR 801 was introduced in the Senate on October 11, 2018. It awaits a hearing in the Committee on Energy and Natural Resources. Look up S.3609 at www.congress.gov to follow its progress. Oklahoma Senator James Inhofe is a co-sponsor. HR 801 is awaiting committee hearing in the Senate as well.

On January 27, 2019, (1:30 p.m. at Mother Road Market, 1124 S. Lewis Avenue, Tulsa) will be the first quarterly meeting of the Association for 2019. Quarterly meetings are open to anyone. The most important agenda item will be election of officers and board members. Plus you can check out one of the newest additions to Tulsa's stretch of Route 66. There are many choices of cool places to eat at Mother Road Market.

Earlier, I mentioned the elections specifically because I've decided to step aside as President. LaSandra and I are planning a move back to Texas to be near our families. Who knew a 3 year old could change a couple of empty nester's course in life so easily! We've enjoyed our involvement with the Association over the last 19 years and I'm a bit sad to be stepping down. There's so many things happening! I'm still committed to a few continuing projects with the Association, so I'm not completely disappearing. But, this will be the last letter you receive from me as president

See you down the road...

P.S. Go see the new movie Green Book. At a classic Route 66 theater if you can...

Brad Nickso

National Park Service Route 66 Corridor Preservation Program Grants announced

The National Park Service, Route 66 Corridor Preservation Program is pleased to announce that seven grants have been awarded for the 2018 cost-share grant cycle. ## Buck Atoms Cosmic Curios

By Liz Huckleby

Buck Atoms Cosmic Curios on 66 is a new gift shop located at 1347 E 11th Street in Tulsa, just East of the historic Meadow Gold sign. The shop carries a variety of unique Route 66 tees and merchandise that you won't find anywhere else on the route, much of which is created by Tulsa area artists.

The store's owner, Mary Beth Babcock, is currently raising funds to have a 20 foot tall custom muffler man installed at the shop to turn the area into a Route 66 destination. The muffler man will be created by artist Mark Cline of Enchanted Sculpture Studios and will be in the likeness of Buck Atoms, the space cowboy featured on the shop's logo. To donate to the creation of this future Tulsa Route 66 roadside attraction, stop in the shop or visit the website buckatomson66.com

Tulsa Updates

By Rhys Martin

As we approach the end of 2018, the energy of Route 66 in Tulsa continues to grow. New signage has been installed on the western border of the city to help travelers stay on Historic Route 66 as they explore the former Oil Capital of the World. More signage is planned, including a series of thermo-plastic shields along the pavement itself to guide out-of-towners.

Ground has been broken at the traffic circle at Admiral and Mingo, the site where Cyrus Avery's service station once stood. Soon it will be the site of a new 70-by-30 foot art installation called "Route 66 Rising" by Albuquerque artist Eric Garcia. The sculpture consists of a giant Route 66 shield partially embedded in the ground, surrounded by Art Deco-inspired rings. It will be a beautiful example of how the spirit of the Mother Road is alive and well.

Progress continues being made on other projects like a small neon sign park on the southwest side of the Cyrus Avery Memorial Bridge. A series of historic markers are being designed to tell more of Tulsa's story to our visitors. Fundraising continues for the Route 66 Experience, a project by the Route 66 Alliance to build a state-of-the-art modern interpretive center for the entire road. If you haven't been down 11th street in a while, there are many new local-owned businesses between Utica and Peoria. Buck Atom's Cosmic Curios is currently working to build a custom Muffler Man statue not far from the iconic Meadow Gold neon sign. It's an exciting time to be on Route 66 in Tulsa!

Movie Green Book Comes to Tulsa

By Jerry McClanahan

On November 25, a large group gathered at Tulsa's classic Circle Cinema (on early Route 66 at 101 S Lewis) for a special showing of the new movie Green Book which chronicles the journey of an Italian driver and his African American musician client across the south during the waning days of the Jim Crow era. Fundamental to their travels was a copy of the "Negro Motorist Green Book," a vital guide to safe places for blacks to eat and sleep in those times.

Special guests at the screening were members of the Threatt family, who are working to restore and preserve the historic 1915 Threatt Station on Route 66 near Luther, OK, one of those few safe places, which is listed on the National Register of Historic Places. Members of the Threatt family displayed copies of the various Green Book editions and answered questions before and after the film.

Prior to the movie, a news segment from Oklahoma City's Fox News was shown, featuring Edward Threatt talking about the importance and history of this rare roadside relic.
